Square Root Interactive Celebrates 10th Anniversary

5/11/2009

A graduate of the Chamber's Small Business Resource Center, Square Root Interactive, a Montgomery-based, full-service Web site design and development agency, recently reached a major business milestone by celebrating its 10th anniversary. To commemorate this special event, the agency created Project: Start-Up – a special project designed to give back to the River Region business community by donating a complete Web site package to a recently established start-up business. These services are valued up to $10,000 and include site planning, design, development, search engine optimization, consulting, hosting and the ability to make site updates in-house using a content management system (CMS).

"One of the challenges a start-up company faces is marketing," said Andy Martin, Square Root Interactive president and co-founder. "Now more than ever, people are going to the Internet to find information about businesses and products. Creating a high-quality Web site is usually the last expense new business owners can afford. This is an opportune way for a local business to realize the benefits of an interactive Web site that effectively communicates with customers, employees, partners and the community."

The application process for Project: Start-Up is open to businesses that are less than three years old (founded on or after June 30, 2006), are locally owned and based in the River Region and have a valid business license. Applications can be found at www.squareroot-inc.com/project-start-up.aspx. The application deadline is June 30, 2009. Businesses being considered for the project will be notified by July 24, 2009, for interviews. The winner of Project: Start-Up will be announced following those final interviews.

Jackson Hospital's Vice President Edward S. Scholl Retires

4/8/2009

Jackson Hospital announces the retirement of longtime vice president Edward C. Scholl. Scholl joined the hospital in 1985 and served as the hospital's vice president of finance. He leaves the organization on April 10, 2009.

During his 24 year tenure, Scholl was instrumental in helping Jackson Hospital grow to meet the health care needs of Montgomery and the Central Alabama region. Among his many accomplishments, he oversaw the financing of a major hospital expansion in the late nineties as well as the new Jackson Surgery and Jackson Imaging centers in 2008. He also served as the head of The Jackson Clinic, the hospital's group of 11 primary care physician practices.

"Ed's fiscal acumen is of a rare caliber. His commitment to Jackson Hospital and to the community is to be commended," offered Don Henderson, Jackson Hospital president and CEO. "We thank him for his many years of service and for positioning Jackson for much future success."
